DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-151 are presented for examination.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-26 and 147-151, drawn to a method of treating bacterial infections, which may be upper respiratory tract infections, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- II. Claims 27-37, drawn to a composition for treating infections of the upper respiratory tract, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- III. Claims 38-46, drawn to a composition for treating infections of the digestive tract, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- IV. Claims 47-56, drawn to a composition for treating infections of the skin, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- V. Claims 57-67, drawn to a method for treating infections of wounds or burns of the skin, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.

Art Unit: 1651

- VI. Claims 68-76, drawn to a method of treating vaginal infections, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- VII. Claims 77-85, drawn to a composition for treating vaginal infections, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- VIII. Claims 86-94, drawn to methods for treating bacterial infections of the eye, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- IX. Claims 95-102, drawn to a composition for treating bacterial infections of the digestive tract, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- X. Claims 103-114, drawn to methods for the treatment of dermatological infections, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- XI. Claims 115-124, drawn to compositions for the treatment of infections of the mouth or teeth, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.
- XII. Claims 125-146, drawn to a method for parenterally treating bacterial infections, classified in class 424, subclass 94.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1651

Inventions II, III, IV, VII, IX and XI are related to inventions I, V, VI, VIII, X and XII, as products and processes for their use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case each of the products can be used in a materially different process than those claimed, such as the treatment of food or food surfaces. See, e.g., EP 0 510 907, provided herewith. Thus, restriction between the products and their processes of use is clearly proper.

The various processes are independent and distinct because each of the claimed processes recites administration of the therapeutic agent to a different class of patient. Moreover, because each of the claimed processes treats a different type of patient, the searches for the variously claimed processes would not be coextensive. Similarly, because the variously claimed products require different carriers, varying from mouthwashes to bandages to tampons, the products must be considered to be independent and distinct, and are therefore properly restricted.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, and because the search required for any one of the groups is different than the search required for the other groups, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

- (a) the various microorganisms recited in claim 10; and
- (b) the various carriers recited in claim 11.

Therefore, if applicant selects group I above, applicant is also required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from each of groups (a) and (b) set forth above, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1651

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
